November 2020

Kia ora. Welcome to Hutt City Corps

In martial arts I hear they learn to “practice until it becomes reflex”. I have found this to be true in our spiritual journey as well. We need to practice something until it becomes a reflex in us.

Life can be tough. We have each experienced a portion of this through 2020. Sometimes not much is happening, and it feels overwhelming surviving the conditions we are living in. Instead of making advancement it feels more just like survival. We will all have these seasons!

So.....WHAT CAN WE FOCUS ON IN THESE TIMES?

If you struggle to see the big picture or vision, can we suggest you try the following:

Prayer

Continue to find ways to spend time with God bringing your requests to Him. In difficult times it could be easy to give up..... BUT DON'T

Meeting Together

Difficult times can make it easy to give up meeting together. DON'T! We need to press into God and each other as we come to Worship and study His Word. Come with an expectation for God to move, during your time in Corporate Worship or small groups. Keep showing up!

Build relationships that bring life As disciples we need to share our life with others so begin to practice meeting together with people who give life and you can give them life. We all need each other.

Keep checking in with others!

Be givers not takers

Find ways to give. This may be spending time, using your gifts, giving financially. When you give and bless others much more comes back to you. Blessed to be a Blessing!

Take some time to reflect on these suggestions and begin or continue to live them out and allow faith to show what God can do.
