TODAY!

Hi all 😊

Sunday January 3rd TE WHITI PARK FOR LUNCH & WALK 11.30AM

We are planning to walk the red track (but in reverse and starting from Te Whiti Park) as marked on the map. It'll be about 3km, but with 300m altitude gain, which is quite steep in parts. We often do it with the boys and it takes us about 70 mins in total. There are two points, where we have a little break. The bush tracks well-maintained, but not sealed or gravelled - so it'll be a proper NZ bush walk, which means your shoes might be dirty afterwards 😊

Don't worry about not being able to keep up though. It's about socialising and even if I can't guarantee our boys won't run (yes, run!) up the track, us adults are happy to walk in a pace that suits everyone.

Hope you'll all join us in this little New Year's challenge!!
